General Information

Annual premiums

The premiums quoted in this guide are based on Missouri rates approved for insurers as of April 18, 1997. These are statewide, average annual rates. The actual rate for you may vary based on where you live. Most companies will allow you to pay premiums monthly. REMEMBER: If you pay annual premiums, most insurers will not refund your premium if you change insurers before the end of the policy year.

Premium increases

Remember that premiums likely will increase each year to account for changes in Medicare benefits or increasing medical costs. If companies raise premiums for higher claim expenses, they must do so for all policies of your class in Missouri. In addition to these increases, premiums for attained-age Medicare supplement policies (see description in "Premium Type", below) will increase as you get older.

Premium type

Companies have three different methods of pricing policies based on your age. The three methods of pricing are:

No age rating. The premium is the same for all customers who buy this policy regardless of age.

Issue age. If you first buy the policy at age 65, you will always pay the premium that the company charges 65-year-old customers no matter what your age. If you first buy the policy at age 70, you'll always pay the 70-year-old rate.

Attained age. With this type of policy, your premium will increase as you get older. If you buy at age 65, then at age 66 you will pay whatever the company is charging 66-year-olds. Although some companies may have a different premium for each year of age, this guide shows premiums at five-year intervals (ages 65, 70, 75 and 80). On average, attained-age policies are less expensive when you are 65 than issue-age or no-age rating policies. However, between the age of 70 and 75, attained-age policies typically become (and remain) more expensive than other types of policies.

Headings in premium charts

Area

Some companies charge different rates based on where you live. If the "Area" column on the charts has a "Y," the company has two or more sets of regional prices. The premiums shown are the average premium for all of Missouri. Before you agree to buy a policy, you should check with the company or agent to find out your exact premium, based on where you live.

Sex

Premiums shown in the charts are for women. A company with "Y" in the "Sex" column has a different (usually higher) premium for men of the same age.

Comments

The numbers in the "Comments" column refer to the footnotes at the bottom of the page. The footnote numbers mean:

- 1) These companies issue policies regardless of health problems you may now have.
- 2) These companies have policies that are available to persons under age 65 who are disabled. The premiums, pre-existing condition limitations, and underwriting requirements will vary from the information presented on these charts for qualifying persons under age 65.
- 3) These companies have lower prices for non-smokers.
- 4) These companies issue only group policies. Often you must join an association or an organization to qualify.
- 5) These policies are marketed by direct response (mail order) rather than by agents.

Pre-existing condition waiting periods

Companies may exclude coverage of existing health conditions for up to six months on your initial policy. A company with "none" in the "Pre-Ex Wait" column of the charts will cover existing health conditions immediately. The numbers in this column refer to how long you wait for coverage of pre-existing conditions.

If you are replacing your Medicare supplement policy with a new policy of the same type, your new policy or certificate may not contain new waiting periods for those benefits covered by your old plan. However, you may have a waiting period on any new benefits you choose in the replacement plan.

Medicare ‘Select’ plans

A few policies are called Medicare “Select” policies. They require you to go to specific health care providers for covered services. The “Select Plan” charts use the same headings (with the same meaning) as those explained under “standardized plans.”

Medicare HMO coverage

Some health maintenance organizations (HMOs) enter into contracts with the federal government to provide basic Medicare plus Medicare supplemental services for enrolled beneficiaries. You may not have to pay a Medicare supplement premium if you enroll in one of these plans. You can identify plans that serve your area by contacting any Social Security office or calling 1-800-638-6833. See page 56 for program availability information in your area.

Medicare supplement insurance shopping tips

You may not need to pay for Medicare supplement insurance

If your income is low, you may qualify for a government program that will subsidize your Medicare coverage. Check with the Missouri Division of Family Services office in your county or call 1-800-392-1261 to find out if you are eligible.

One policy is enough

Do not buy more than one policy at a time. If you already have a policy and want better benefits, you can replace it with a new one. Once you receive the new policy and you are certain it meets your needs, you should drop the old one. Be sure your new policy takes effect when your old policy is canceled. If you get Medicare coverage through an HMO (described above) you do not need a Medicare supplement policy.

Right to coverage — open enrollment

You have the right to buy a Medicare supplement policy if:

- You signed up for Medicare Part B in the past six months, and
- You are age 65 or older. If you apply for a policy after that six-month period, some companies may reject your application if you have poor health.

Open enrollment — the disabled

Individuals eligible for Part B benefits because of disability or permanent kidney failure now have open enrollment rights when they turn age 65. In other words, an insurer cannot reject your application. Your Medigap six-month, open-enrollment period begins on the first day of the month in which you turn 65 (unless your birthday is on the 1st of the month, in which case it begins the first day of the preceding month). This is the only open enrollment for which you are eligible. For disabled, Medicare-enrolled individuals under 65, it is advisable to look for companies that have a "2" in the "Comments" column of the tables. This will indicate the companies that have policies available for you.

10 Medicare supplement plans — A through J

You can choose from 10 standardized Medicare supplement policies (not including the "Select" plans). No matter what company you choose, the 10 standardized plans are identical from company to company. The benefits for each plan are outlined on page 5. This same information is included in each company's sales materials.

Shop for benefits, service and price

Check the benefits in each of the 10 plans. Every company must use the same letters (A through J) to label its policies. Plan A always is a company's lowest-priced Medicare supplement policy. It contains basic benefits and must be sold by every company. Plans B through J add other benefits to fill different gaps in your Medicare coverage. Not every company will sell all policies. In the charts on company prices, costs are shown only for the plan or plans that a company offers.

Use the Guide

The Guide to Health Insurance for People with Medicare was written by federal Medicare personnel and the National Association of Insurance Commissioners. It has excellent information about Medicare as well as health insurance. Any agent or company that offers to sell you Medicare supplement insurance must give you a copy of the guide.

More information is available

Contact the department's consumer hotline at 1-800-726-7390 to talk with a specialist on Medicare supplement insurance, get information on complaints for each company selling such policies or find out financial ratings that provide a rough indicator of a company's financial health. You also can contact the CLAIM Program (Community Leaders Assisting the Insured of Missouri), a private service that counsels seniors on insurance. CLAIM's services are available for senior and disabled Medicare beneficiaries and their families. CLAIM services are free — funded by the department with federal support. The CLAIM program maintains a toll-free number: 1-800-390-3330.

All plans include the basic benefits:

- Hospitalization: Part A coinsurance ($190 per day from 61st to 90th day and $380 from 91st to 150th day) plus coverage for 365 additional days after Medicare benefits end.
- Medical Expenses: Part B coinsurance (generally 20% of Medicare-approved expenses).
- Blood: First three pints of blood each year.

Plans B through J contain added benefits, which may include:

- Skilled nursing facility care coinsurance ($95.00 per day for days 21 through 100 per benefit period in 1997).
(Benefit period begins on first day of inpatient service and ends after you have been out of hospital or skilled nursing facility for 60 days in a row.)
- Part A inpatient hospital deductible ($760 per benefit period in 1997).
- Part B deductible ($100 per calendar year in 1997).
- Part B excess (either 80% or 100% of the difference between Medicare's approved amount for Part B services and actual charges).
- 80% of medically necessary emergency care in a foreign country, up to a $50,000 lifetime maximum after a $250 calendar year deductible.
- At-home recovery benefits up to $1,600 per year for short term, at-home assistance with activities of daily living for recovery from illness, injury or surgery.
- 50% of prescription drug costs up to a maximum annual benefit of $1,250(H&I) - $3,000(J) after a policyholder meets a $250 per year deductible.
- Preventive medical care up to $120 per year for physical exams, preventive measures, screenings and tests.

The plan options are spelled out in the " Guide to Health Insurance for People with Medicare."
